

Pity. It's 100% curable. Brandon was born with cerebral palsy, a neuromuscular disorder that affects his motor skills, including his ability to walk. At Gillette Children's, he and his family find world-renowned pediatric specialists who are advancing new treatments and surgeries to help change the way Brandon sees the world. And the world sees Brandon. Learn more at curepity.org.

